TRICUBES STRENGTHENS PRODUCT RANGE WITH PROCOM-ACTIVITY MERGER

Merger reflects Tricubes' vision and business alignment with high growth global identity markets

Kuala Lumpur – November 22, 2005 – MESDAQ-listed Tricubes Berhad (Tricubes) today announced the expansion of its product offerings with the merger of its Australian-based principal, Procom Development Systems (Procom) and NASDAQ-listed ActivIdentity Corp.

Commenting on the merger, Khairun Zainal Mokhtar, Chief Executive Officer of Tricubes said, "By leveraging on ActivIdentity's Single Sign-On (SSO), secure remote access and smart card technologies, Tricubes is in a strategic position to engage with some of the world's top companies and be seen as the leading identity management provider locally and regionally.

"The Tricubes and ActivIdentity partnership would take on new heights where end-to-end identity solutions are concerned. Customers now have the option of integrating credentials management modules with our very own biometrics reader, the Sekure, to strengthen their digital authentication initiatives," added Khairun.

ActivIdentity focuses on its core competencies to deliver best-of-breed proof of identity, digital signatures and credential management integrated with industry-leading identity management and physical access partners including IBM, Lenel, Microsoft, Novell, Oracle and Sun.

ActivIdentity's vision is to enable an individual to have a secure electronic identity allowing access to information systems anywhere, anytime. The Company delivers this vision by adding digital identity assurance and digital evidence to network infrastructures, allowing people and organizations to electronically interact with confidence.

“The combination of a strong authentication and credential management will position ActivIdentity to achieve its technology mission,” said Roman Tuma, Territory Manager ASEAN, ActivIdentity Development Systems. “With digital proof of identity in place, organisations can move forward in adopting end-to-end solutions for compliance.”

“This merger more accurately reflects our business focus and position within the broader identity management market,” said Tuma. “It also reflects a refinement in our position and focus. With this merger, our distributor, Tricubes will have the best of both worlds in SSO solutions coupled with token security management to offer to the local market.”

Tricubes’ distributorship includes channel-expanding partnerships around the world with solution provider companies like PCCW (Hong Kong), STEE (Singapore) and value-added resellers like Cameon and Seris in France.
